

Enjoy the sweet taste of success

INTERNATIONAL CAREERS IN SUGAR

Booker Tate, a subsidiary of Tsb Sugar, has over the last 50 years become an international leader providing management and technical services to the world of sugar and related agribusiness.

We have operational and project management experience world-wide with specific interests in Africa; Central/South America and the Caribbean; Asia Pacific and the Middle East.

Factory and Agricultural Opportunities

If you are a well qualified mechanical or electrical engineer, process technologist, ethanol specialist, agricultural engineer, agriculturist or agronomist with at least five years' management experience in the sugar industry and are interested in pursuing an international career with Booker Tate, we would like to hear from you. Fluency in written and spoken English is essential.

Assignments usually last for several years at each overseas project and international career prospects with Tsb Sugar and Booker Tate, including opportunities in the UK and South Africa, are excellent.

We offer a competitive overseas benefits package including free accommodation, company transport, health insurance, pension allowance, children's education assistance, relocation assistance and annual home leave.
